

An Open Letter To Santa Ana's Junior Chamber of Commerce

Gentlemen:

Because of your successful and most worthy financial drive to send the Santa Ana High school band north to the Golden Gate Fair competition, and because you appear to be the most progressive, civic-minded organization in Santa Ana, El Don proposes to your group the sponsorship of a new junior college campus.

Last Friday's Fiesta was even more successful than in previous years, and introduced many young people to Santa Ana who will become students here this fall. It is one of many examples of the annual improvement and progress the college makes, and is proof of the benefits derived by a community from a higher institution of learning.

Though our faculty is generally recognized as far above average, our athletic teams command the respect of all foes, our debate squad is winner of the Eastern Conference forensic title, and our newspaper set a new record nationally for consecutive All-American awards, still our campus remains antiquated and inadequate. Students are crowded together in small cramped classrooms that were abandoned years ago by the junior high school, which got new quarters to replace the buildings we now occupy.

Our art and science laboratories and gym are spread over an area of several business blocks, and many students are deprived of taking courses because of lack of classrooms or equipment. Although our graduates are of such high standing that they annually find jobs in local business houses immediately upon graduation here, they are forced to acquire their learning in quarters that are far worse than any other junior college in the Southland—quarters that are certainly no asset to the good name of this city.

This, then, is our problem, and we submit it to you. Why must our college which is situated in one of the wealthiest counties in the nation, and rated second scholastically in the state of California by Stanford university, have to occupy the least adequate college buildings in the state?

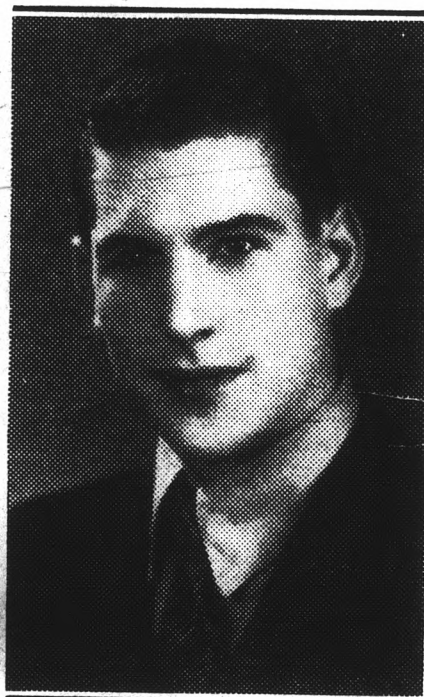

With this issue El Don closes another year, but we hope that before Fiesta Day arrives again that the Junior Chamber will have taken some definite steps toward the solution of this, the biggest problem in Santa Ana today.

Your help will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

GLORIA KIRCHNER
Editor, El Don

THEY EDIT COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS

TOM POWELL, Orange high school graduate and present sports editor of El Don, will edit the college newspaper next fall. He succeeds Gloria Kirchner who headed the staff this semester. Gloria Kirchner, first woman editor here in four years, ended her term with today's issue.

Audree Willsey, selected as the most outstanding woman student in the beginning class this year, will become society editor with the opening of college classes in September, Powell said. A Santa Ana High school graduate, she will succeed Betty Frye who has held that post throughout the current year.

Language Group Will Continue Drive For Spanish Orphans

Decision by college language societies to extend their "Spanish Orphan" drive for an indefinite period was made today, as club officials discovered only $20 had been collected during the past two weeks. The campaign is designed to feed and clothe young Spanish refugees stranded in France.

Concluding their initial program of setting aside each day of the college week as a particular time for students born in different months to donate their contributions, sponsors of the plan, the French and Spanish clubs, and Alpha Mu Gamma language society, announced that the desk for receiving donations will remain in College hall for students to contribute small sums at any time.

Miss Mary Swass and Miss Lella Watson, co-heads of the drive, this week reiterated their plea to all language students to aid in the current campaign, and urged others in the college to participate with equal cooperation.

Funds received from students will be sent to the New York of-

WILL SPEAK HERE

DR. EVERETT DEAN MARTIN of Claremont colleges who will deliver jaysee's commencement address June 16.

Will Publish Jaysee Catalogue July 1

Due to the printing of the college and high school annuals jaysee's catalogue for next year will not go to press until after college closes, Director D. K. Hammond said today.

Program Set For Baccalaureate

Releasing plans for baccalaureate and commencement activities, Director D. K. Hammond today announced that Dr. Everett Dean Martin of Claremont colleges will deliver the annual commencement address. Dr. Martin, a recognized authority on political science, is the brother of Miss Myrtle A. Martin, head of the local music department.

Speaker at the baccalaureate services, which will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday, June 11, will be the Rev. Harry Owings of the local First Baptist church, Director Hammond announced.

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM

Two numbers will be presented by the A Capella chorus under the direction of Miss Martin at the baccalaureate services, "Panis Angelicus" by Frank and "Ballad of the Tree and the Master" by Mathews. Orchestral numbers have not yet been selected by Director Alan A. Revill.

Commencement exercises will be held in the auditorium of the local high school at 4 p. m. Friday, June 16. Topic of Dr. Martin's address has not yet been announced.

Payment Warning Issued By Office

Students were warned today by office secretaries and by Miss Muriel Anderson, assistant librarian, that all fees must be paid before any candidate for graduation may receive his diploma or grades next month.

All change of program fees, and those for making up incompletes, except those caused by illness, must be paid before the student can receive a diploma or his grades, it was stated.

PEEK-A-BOO

Printing news is one thing; getting it right is another. That was made clear in today's issue of the Santa Ana Independent which printed a letter from Director D. K. Hammond denying that he had been present at the Municipal bowl when the high school band played the Star Spangled Banner as charged in an Independent "Looker" on May 12.

According to a check made yesterday by El Don the Independent made four mistakes in the story: (1) Mr. Hammond didn't attend the game; (2) He never wears and doesn't own a hat; (3) The band didn't play the Star Spangled Banner; and (4) Mr. Hammond is not principal of jaysee. He is director and dean of the college.

The Independent's reporter must have been absent too.

Drama Group Gets Charter Tomorrow

Will Initiate 15 At Fullerton

Charter membership in Delta Psi Omega today awaits 15 local dramatists, who with their adviser, Ernest Crozier Phillips, attend the California convention of the national honorary drama society at Fullerton jaysee tomorrow afternoon.

A dinner in the evening at 6:30, and presentation of a "Gay Nineties Olio and Mellerdrummer" at the Fullerton college auditorium at 8 o'clock, completes the program.

YOUR CLUB IN BRIEF

Members of Beta Gamma, extra-curricular honor society, will hold their annual beach party at Balboa Island during the Memorial day holidays, President Donn Hart said today. Using Instructor Alan A. Revill's island cottage as their headquarters, society members plan to remain at the beach from Sunday morning until Tuesday evening.

Plans for their program to be presented at the Senior Lions banquet June 1 were being completed today by the Junior Lions. The presentation will include several numbers by the men's octet of the music department, solo numbers by Vernon Worden, and several selections by a trumpet trio consisting of Milton Asher, Gil Brookings, and Del Taylor.

Meeting tonight in their final social event of the college year, members of Los Gauchos journey to Corona for a club picnic. Ralph Dawson, Laurence Dresser, and Jack Clark are in charge of the event.

Nearly 30 prospective members of a jaysee Lutheran club met this week to take initial steps in the organization of such a group. They were addressed by Larry Fickle, president of the Fullerton society, who explained the membership and functions of such a club.

SAILS FOR HAWAII

MRS. CONRAD BUSCH was the former Mary Knoche, society editor of El Don last year, who sails tonight for Hawaii where her husband is employed. She was also feature editor of Del Ano while attending jaysee. (Cut courtesy the Register)

Buccaneers To Hold Yacht Party Soon

Approximately 18 Buccaneers and their guests are expected to attend the club's annual yachting party to Catalina island on June 4. A few non-club members will be given bids to the event.

Members plan a picnic lunch at the island at noon, and dinner-dancing to Kay Kyser's orchestra in the evening, club officials said.

The club will hold a brief meeting Wednesday afternoon to make final arrangements for the trip.

June 2 Banquet, Theater Party Planned By Tavern Tattlers

Arrangements are complete today for the annual Tavern Tattler banquet and theater party to be held next Friday evening in Pasadena. The affair will feature the election of next semester's officers.

Combining two customary Tattler activities, members will attend the stage play "The Great American Family," playing its fifth week at a Pasadena theatre, after which the banquet will be held.

Recognition for outstanding contributions to Tavern Post, literary publication of the club, will be made at the banquet with the Robert L. Brown, as well as the Joseph Langland poetry awards bestowed. Officers will also be elected to replace those graduating this spring.

Selection of the winner of the Brown award for the best poetic contribution to Tavern Post this year, rests with Mrs. Mona Summers Smith, reader's aide at the Santa Ana Public library, while Tattler members will adjudge winner of the Langland award. Each of the prizes this year is a bound collection of poetry.

Newman Club Holds Card Party Today

Jaysee students and the general public are invited to attend the Newman club card party to be held this afternoon at the Knights of Columbus hall, 405 French street. Tickets are 35 cents, and several prizes will be awarded.

Freshmen Boost Grid Squad To 70 Players

In addition to gridsters returning this fall, Coach Bill Cook believes that freshman enrollees will boost his squad to near 70 men, he said today. As the Dons are facing one of the most rigorous schedules in years, every available man will be needed, he stated.

A summary of Don veterans, by position, follows:

ENDS PLENTIFUL

Ends—Bob Schildmeyer, Bill Joseph, Dave Nembach, Louis Cloud, Nelson Harnois. Lettermen: Jim Nunez, Glen Cave, and Les Valentine.

Tackles—Ted Mills, Ted Gosewick, Charles Attridge. Lettermen: Wes Mulkins, Jack Stafford, and Grover Miller.

VETERAN LINE

Guards—Bill Barry, Don Schrock, Roy Baly. Lettermen: Dick Horton, Bill Ross Art Heinisch, and Co-captain Dale Mickelwaite. Centers—Gib Bristow, and Bob Dunning.

Halves—Jesse Graham, Willis Hemphill, George Goda, Howard Page. Lettermen: Charles Stafford, Lawson Taylor, and Co-captain Rollo Beck.

BACKS

Quarters—Fred Kobayashi, Romolo Narducci, Bill Wilson, Russ Deardon, Ray Castro. Lettermen: Larry Monroy, and Vic Lindskog. Fulls—Gene Hamaker, and Letterman Sam Henderson.

Baseballers 'Enjoy' Disastrous Season

Bill Cook's baseball team went through a rather disastrous season, dropping all but one contest. Two home runs by Ray Ortiz, and superior batting by Bob Bushman and George Henry helped win the Citrus game 17-4.

In League games, George Henry led the swatsmiths with an average of .477. Ray Ortiz with .474, Bob Bushman with .445, Jim Nunez and Joe Anton with .400, were the other leaders.

Netters Prepared For Big Match

For the first time in seven years, the jaysee tennis squad is favored to win the conference championship which will be settled between the Dons and Riverside next Wednesday on the local high school courts.

Undeclared in conference play this season, the local netmen must win Wednesday's meet to clinch the league crown.

DEFEAT MEANS TIE

Coach Merle Griset said today that the week end would be spent in drills on the courts. He intimated that a player who received a minor injury would be back in the lineup.

Declining to give the identity of the injured man, he said "the boys will be ready for Riverside."

PRACTICE DRILL

Should the locals be upset by the Bengals, they will be in a three-way tie with Riverside and Chaffey.

Make Grid Schedule For Next Season

Climaxing months of negotiation the 1939 Don football schedule is complete today, the toughest in years, in the opinion of Head-coach Bill Cook.

Exceeding last year's schedule by one contest, the 12 games include the following tussles for the Dons:

Sept. 15—Santa Ana at Pasadena jaysee.

Sept. 22—Santa Monica jaysee at Santa Ana.

Sept. 29—UCLA frosh at Santa Ana.

Oct. 6—San Diego State frosh at Santa Ana.

Oct. 12—Santa Ana at Pomona jaysee.

Oct. 14—California frosh at Berkeley.

Oct. 20—Santa Ana at San Bernardino jaysee.

Oct. 27—Riverside jaysee at Santa Ana.

Nov. 3—Santa Ana at Chaffey jaysee.

Nov. 10—Long Beach jaysee at Santa Ana.

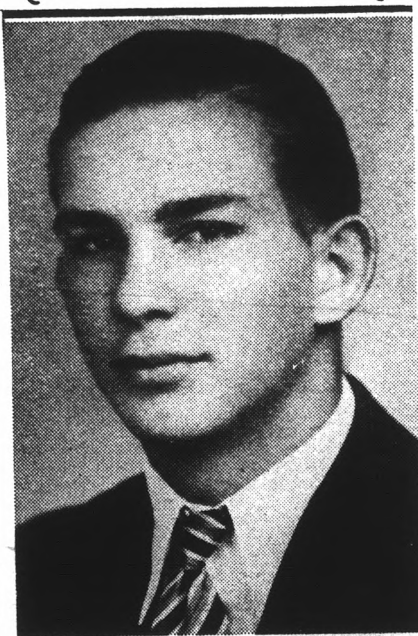

Nov. 17—San Mateo jaysee at Santa Ana.

Nov. 30—Fullerton jaysee at Santa Ana.

Hold Grunt Festival In Fullerton Today

Matmen representing southland jaysees will meet in a wrestling tourney to be held today in the Fullerton High school gymnasium.

MAKES GOOD

JOHN LEHNHARDT, '36 graduate and quarterback on Coach Bill Cook's Southern Cal championship team, has accepted a coaching job with Flora, Miss., High school. He graduates from Mississippi University this year.

Ex-Gridders Get Coaching Jobs

John Lehnhardt, former Don grid star and all-conference quarterback on Coach Bill Cook's championship team in 1935 and '36, it was learned today, has accepted a coaching position at Flora, Miss. high school.

Lehnhardt, who will graduate from Mississippi university this spring is the second local athlete to accept a southern high school coaching post. Ray Hapes, former Don and "Ole Miss" graduate recently signed up to teach and coach at Bay St. Louis, Miss. high in September.

Hapes was all-Southeastern conference halfback at "Ole Miss" in 1935 and national major college high scorer that year, while Lehnhardt received the most valuable gridder award here in 1936.

Lehnhardt is married to the former Ginger Keeler, a jaysee journalism student who graduated here in '37 and later attended Mississippi.

'Louis Will Remain King'—Local Boxers

Controversy is apparent in the opinions voiced by members of Coach Bill Cook's physical education classes as to who, if anyone in the world today, will be able to knock the heavyweight boxing crown from the kinky head of champion Joe Louis.

Some of the opinions voiced, follow:

Vic Lindskog—Nova has a slim chance above Galento and Baer. He is big and strong. He is young and he can punch. His drawback is lack of experience. If any other fighter stands a chance with Louis, it is a boxer like Rosenbloom.

Mike Cruz—Joe has the all-around ability to defeat the present crop of heavyweights. There is one coming up who may do it. He is Billy Conn.

Hold Final Bouts In Boxing Tournament

Finals in the boxing tourney, under the supervision of Vic Lindskog and Bob Blake, were held yesterday in the Y gym at 11 o'clock.

Winners in the five divisions were Mike Cruz, featherweight; Bill Farwell, lightweight; Fred Kobayashi, welterweight; Bishop, Cloud drew in the middleweight; and Wes Mulkins, heavyweight.

The matches were held for three rounds with Lindskog and Blake officiating at alternate bouts.

Jim Johnson, recently voted most valuable Don trackster, appeared today a candidate for the St. Xavier college track team when Ralph Metcalf, 1932 United States Olympic sprinter, begins coaching at the New Orleans institution next spring. prizes for the year awarded will be the final activity of the club this semester.

The possibility arose when Metcalf, now studying law at USC, watched Johnson perform in two Don meets in Los Angeles recently and invited him to consider St. Xavier for his last two years of college.

WILL GO ON

Johnson, who will graduate here next February, said today he plans to go on to college and is favorably impressed with the southern school.

He is local record holder in the 880, 440, and high jump.

LIKES JUMP

He considers the latter his best event and thinks he can hoist his 160 pounds at least two inches higher than his record of 6 feet 3 1-4 inches set in the Don-Pomona meet.

Expect Strong Nine Here Next Year

Although graduation this year will claim several baseball performers, the local team will not be greatly hampered, Coach Bill Cook said today.

The People's Choice

In every college where fraternities and sororities exist, there is always a large majority of "unorganized" students, and in many universities these non-orgs rule the school politically. In this junior college of 900 students, the majority of students are not in service clubs, yet the minority of club members are practically the only ones who even participate in voting.

Seldom has a student been elected to an office who was not nominated and supported by his club. It has gotten so that a student who is backed by a combination of clubs can win an office which controls the student body. Is this the true meaning of "the people's choice"?

Within the hundreds of students who are not members of clubs, there must be some who are capable of holding an office as the service club candidates are. All that is needed is a petition; surely one person could be found to take that out. There is no reason why a candidate supported by the hundreds of non-orgs could not win an election by a large majority.

This, then, is directed to you five or six hundred students who are not in service clubs, but are just as much a part of jaysee as anyone else. This is your college, too, you know. Why don't you take a hand in your share of governing it?

"If I Were 21"

Our attention has been called to an article featured editorially the other evening in Santa Ana's daily newspaper, entitled, "If I Were 21—".

We believe, after reading the article carefully, that it is just possible that it was reproduced from a national periodical to the extent of 4000 words because in it appear comments deemed in keeping with the local editor's policy that the American educational system is inappropriate and unjustified.

With all respect to its narrator, however, it justifies careful consideration and we comment upon it for we note it recounts the success story of an individual who contends that were he a youth again, he "wouldn't let a college education interfere with his practical education as a mechanic." He also says that modern colleges are turning out a bewildered generation, adverse to and unequipped for practical labor.

The gentleman criticizes the modern college for too much theoretical, and too little practical training, stating that his success came through practical experience. We are aware that he was a mechanic—is now a national industrial executive. We do not dispute his high position nor the fact that he is a self-made man. When it is related, however, that he rose to such heights without a college education and infers incompetency by the modern college, we feel we should add our contention that he became successful NOT because he was without a college education, but DESPITE the fact that he did not have a college education. Is it logical to assume that every one would be a similar success if they quit college?

Genius is genius, and we are reminded it occurs something like once in a million, whether it be the genius of knowing oneself thoroughly or the gift that aids one to be a successful leader of men. But few of us will ever be executives. That is why, we believe, modern education is planned as it is in the best interests of the majority.

It is our opinion that most any modern collegian is aware that success is a triumvirate of (1) knowing how; (2) knowing when; and (3) going out and doing it. The first is preparedness; the second, experience; and the latter, work and intestinal fortitude. We are convinced that college is the epitome of preparation, and whether it is recognized generally or not, it IS modern educational practice to equalize theoretical with practical training in building individual character.

Significant locally is the point raised by the article, aimed principally at manual arts education, concerning practical training. In keeping with practical educational policy, we with every local junior college supporter, believe there is a grave need here for additional facilities at jaysee, such as larger machine shops, drafting rooms, and equipment necessary to facilitate actual shop training. We believe that those who will help to build today's colleges will be taking care of tomorrow's future.—M.P.S.

Decoration Day Ceremonies Originate in the South

By GLADYS WILCOX

Next Tuesday brings another Decoration day and recalls many memories of the past.

When National Commander John A. Logan of the Grand Army proclaimed May 30, 1868, as the first Decoration day he said that it was to be established for the purpose of "strengthening the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion with the hope that the custom would be kept from year to year."

SOUTH FIRST

The idea of Decoration day, which we now know as Memorial day, was suggested to Commander Logan by Adjutant General N. P. Chapman. Up until the time the proclamation was made various sections of the country honored dead soldiers by placing flowers on their graves. These commemorative days were held on different days during the spring. The custom was most prevalent in the South, and the Southern states were among the first ones to make Decoration day a legal holiday.

Memorial day has since been declared a legal holiday in Porto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, and the District of Columbia, and in every state except the following: Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Texas. In Virginia the day is called Confederate Memorial day.

Each year in this country the graves of soldiers of all past wars are decorated on this day. A wreath is laid on the grave of the Unknown soldier in Arlington cemetery by the president in memory of the many soldiers who passed to "the Beyond known only to God."

Thus, the hope of Commander Logan has come to pass, that this day would be kept from year to year.
